Key Challenge of Implementing Diversification Strategy

Identify, Reach, Position

Identify

How to identify and understand your potential audience in the new market?

The existing target audience may no longer be applicable for new business development. Thus, new strategy needs to be formulated to understand the potential target audience.

Reach

How to reach your new target audience?

Leveraging the opportunity of digitalization is important to sustain the growth of new business. The question is, what platform and strategy should we adopt to reach those audiences instantaneously.

Position

How could the market know their diversified positioning & services?

Current business position may have already been deeply-rooted in customers' mind. Delivering new business positioning and services will need much stronger links and appropriate communication strategy.
